Pro-Vision appoint new Area Sales Manager

Pro-Vision Distribution, the national distributor of branded CCTV and Access Control equipment, have further strengthened their external sales team with the appointment of Steve Dunning as Area Sales Manager for the North of England.

Steve brings with him over 15 years of experience in the security industry – from both the manufacturing and the distribution sectors. Prior to joining Pro-Vision Steve was over 10 years with CBC where he was instrumental in securing the supply and specification of CCTV equipment for a variety of major projects. In addition to Steve's time with CBC (Europe) he had 7 years in the distribution channel with Gardiners Security Distribution.

Peter Ford, Managing Director of Pro-Vision told us, "Steve's appointment has enabled us to add even greater depth to our sales force. Steve brings a wealth of experience with him and a sound knowledge of CCTV and Access Control equipment so we are delighted he decided to join us."

Peter added "This new appointment is yet another positive indication that we are doing things right in terms of providing customers with the high standards of service they expect and strengthening the support for the brands we distribute."
