Pro-Vision have a ‘handle’ on the latest technology from PAC

Pro-Vision Distribution Limited, the distributor of branded CCTV and access control equipment, are pleased to announce that they can now offer the EL door handle from PAC to the UK installer.

Simon Davies, Internal Sales Manager for Pro-Vision Distribution, said “PAC has recently launched a new robust locking solution to ease the security for internal doors. The new EL Smart Door Handle (SDH) is a simple to install, stylish, battery-operated electronic escutcheon that provides a reliable solution for electronic access control in commercial and residential applications. The EL SDH can be standalone or connected wirelessly to PAC’s user friendly and intuitive access control software. When configured in standalone mode the EL SDH provides a battery life of up to two years. When batteries run low the EL SDH displays visual indicators and batteries can be easily replaced in minutes.”

Simon continued “If connected to the PAC software all key-holder updates, events and even battery status are transmitted to the controlling software providing real time data for all the important information on the system. The PC Administrator can set up time profiles to each SDH allowing free access to areas during defined times whilst maintaining security at others. Adding or removing credentials can be done instantly in the same way as a standard card reader.

PAC’s EL Smart Door Handle meets EN1906 and provides a full package - both in terms of functionality and build quality. Available in 72, 90 and 92mm Euro profile centres and suitable for doors with a thickness from 30 to 110mm PAC’s latest product is an ideal solution for doors that require additional security without the expense of installing a conventional access control system.”
