Pro-Vision to Offer FLIR's Range of CCTV Equipment

Pro-Vision Distribution Limited, a United Kingdom (UK) - based distributor of branded CCTV and access control equipment, has recently signed an agreement to supply and support the full portfolio of equipment from FLIR Systems, Inc.

An industry-leading security system provider, FLIR covers consumers, small and mid-sized businesses, enterprise, and large infrastructure segment customers. Today their advanced solutions include best-in-class Video Monitoring Systems (VMS), advanced visible and thermal cameras, on-board and server-based video analytics, and recording platforms.

"We are pleased to add the FLIR range to the expanding product portfolio of CCTV equipment we offer to the UK installer," said Peter Ford, Managing Director of Pro-Vision Distribution. "FLIR has invested in numerous technologies to expand its security product line, offering turnkey solutions our customers want."

"FLIR welcomes Pro-Vision Distribution as a new distributor of FLIR security products in the UK," said Chris Garden, Managing Director of Security at FLIR UK. "Pro-Vision has earned respect in the industry for providing security installers with excellent service and we look forward to working together to showcase the benefits of the FLIR security product range."

FLIR's security products are now available from Pro-Vision. For more information, visit: <http://www.provision-cctv.com/>.
