Pro-Vision to offer TDSi range of Integrated Access Control Systems

Pro-Vision Distribution Limited, the distributor of branded CCTV and access control equipment, has recently signed an agreement to supply and support the full portfolio of equipment from TDSi - one of the UK's leading international suppliers of integrated access control systems.

TDSi has been manufacturing and supplying access control systems for over 30 years. Under the agreement, Pro-Vision Distribution will sell and support everything from stand-alone, entry-level products right through to sophisticated multi-application management systems. This includes a wide selection of controllers, readers, software systems and accessories together with products developed for specific sector applications.

David Westwood, External Sales Manager of Pro-Vision Distribution, said "We are really pleased to add the TDSi range to our expanding product portfolio of door entry and access control options that we offer to the UK installer. TDSi have successfully supplied systems to over 100,000 installations across the world with several million card holders benefitting from TDSi access control systems each and every day. The range is detailed in our latest product catalogue (March 2016)."

Reflecting upon the new partnership John Davies, Managing Director of TDSi commented, "We are delighted to be working with Pro-Vision Distribution, a company which has proven its excellence in the field over the last 10 years. Their vision to grow their market presence in the physical access control market really excites us. TDSi's success is down to working with expert partners and we are very excited to be supplying our comprehensive range of integrated security products through Pro-Vision's considerable market reach."

TDSi products are at the heart of security systems across the world. For more than a quarter of a century its high quality range of cost effective access control solutions have been developed to meet the needs of projects across a range of markets, both in the private and public sectors. From stand-alone door controllers to fully integrated access control software management suites each of their products delivers the same combination of reliable performance, technical excellence, elegant design and value for money.
